The proposed Microsoft anti-trust settlement is completely unsatisfactory. Why? Because again, and again Microsoft has willfully demonstrated its disdain for past injunctions and legal settlements with the US Justice Department. The record and documentation is quite clear else I would recite it once again in this mailing.

It will be a travesty of justice if the current proposal becomes the settlement. Almost as bad, would be the wasted millions in tax dollars that the government has spent to finally get Microsoft "on the ropes", and now have this administration "roll over", allowing MS to get off w/ little more than a slap on the wrist. This will only serve to tell MS that it can get away w/ what ever it likes.
